VOICE OF THE KNIGHTS

Volume 53 Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, Saturday, February 27, 1960 Number 19

Classes Cut

Because the Knights are the undisputed champions of the Iowa Conference, classes will be dismissed Tuesday morning, according to Dean of Students Earnest Oppermann.

Convo Switch

Tuesday's convocation will be held Tuesday at 3 p.m. because of the ceremony honoring the basketball champs in the morning.

Senate Talks Future Plans For Concert

By Kathy Knuth

Action concerning future pops concerts was taken by the Student Senate at its meeting Monday evening.

The Senate voted to recommend to the Student Body that the recently approved student government fee of 25 cents per semester, which will go into effect next year, be raised to one dollar per semester; and that a percentage of this fee be used for financial backing for the pops concert.

"It was suggested that the pops concert be included under jurisdiction of the Artist Series Committee. This was discussed with Dr. A. W. Swensen, chairman of the committee, who felt it might be possible," stated Student Body Pres. Norm Litzner.

"If this were done the Senate felt that the students would lose much of the responsibility in deciding upon the concert," he added.

Further details concerning the proposal have not been fully worked out.

Senate member senior Joel Diemer stated, "We must make it clear to the students that an addition to their student government fee will not necessarily fully pay for their concert ticket. Depending upon the expense of the group obtained, students may have to pay a slight extra charge for the tickets."

Details To Come

According to Litzner, "The details of this policy will be worked out before presenting it to the Student Body for consideration on March 8."

In order for the policy to go into effect, it must be voted on by the Board of Regents and placed in the college catalog.

"This means that if such a policy were approved by the Student Body, it would not go into effect until the 1961-62 school year," Litzner added.

"In view of the fact that students might want a pops concert next year, the Student Senate voted to turn this over to the Social Activities Committee, so they might use various social events as projects for raising money for next year's pops concert."

Suggested projects included sponsoring a movie, a swing show or a hair's off show, which would be presented entirely by a male cast.

Action was not taken on the social group's problem. A Senate investigating committee reported that extensive research had been done on this subject and questionnaires had been sent to other schools concerning the matter.

DISCUSSING THE ROLE of the student newspaper at the opening session of the Editors' Conference are Kathy Stevens, Upper Iowa; Al Solmonson, Luther; Eric Farley, Iowa State Teachers College; and Roger Lageschulte, Wartburg.

CONFAB ENDS TODAY

Current College Setting 'Devoid Of Controversy' Register Man Tells Editors

"College campuses these days are placid places, devoid of controversy," Richard L. Hopkins, editorial writer for the Des Moines Register, told Iowa College newspaper editors last night.

Hopkins was addressing a banquet gathering of journalists who are participating in the Iowa editors' confab which is currently in session on campus.

Recalling his own college days, he told the group that an editor of a college paper was a failure unless he stirred up some big issues during his tenure.

"Perhaps the current lull is merely an expression of wisdom, maturity, prudence and foresight," he offered, "or maybe it is a reflection of the passion for public relations."

Hopkins said he felt that a college newspaper should be more than a house organ and a calendar of social and extra-curricular events.

He pointed out that college newspapers should have definite editorial pages where editors can express the position of the paper on any issue.

"The editorial page, where opinion is stated frankly, is the key to all-around ethical standards of the newspaper," the professional journalist added.

Approximately twenty-five editors from Luther, Upper Iowa, Iowa State Teachers, Westmar and Wartburg colleges heard Hopkins speak in the Private Dining Room of the Wartburg Cafeteria.

The same group exchanged ideas with student government leaders in an earlier panel session yesterday afternoon.

The conference, sponsored by the Trumpet, will continue today with a make-up and typography clinic and a panel on censorship, winding up this afternoon. Representatives from several more Iowa Colleges are expected today.

Lenten Services Scheduled On Campus Starting Wed.

Lenten services will again be held on campus this year. The services will be Wednesday evenings at 6:30 in the Little Theater, starting this week.

According to Chaplain Herman Diers, the Rev. Gerald Nerenhausen of St. Paul's will conduct the Lenten series for Wartburg students under the theme "Symbols of the Passion."

Special music will be provided at each service.

These Lenten services will replace the Wednesday evening chapel services during the Lenten season.

Chaplain Diers pointed out that the offerings taken at the services will be used to aid students in Hong Kong, China.

Diers

Help Students

"This is an opportunity for us as Christian students to help other Christian young people who are struggling desperately to receive an education that is not controlled by a Communistic government," Pastor Diers explained.

At the present time the University of Hong Kong cannot handle the influx of students coming from behind the Iron Curtain. A number of small colleges have also fled from the China mainland, yet they are not able to relieve the pressure, Diers explained.

Jobs Scarce

He added that, not only do the students who migrate to Hong Kong for an education have a difficult time gaining entrance, but they also are unable to obtain jobs to support themselves.

Many despair and commit suicide or turn to Communism as a result.

Money Gives Self-Help

"The money from our offerings will go to establish a self-help program for the students," Pastor Diers added. "This would include providing places to live while at the university as well as tuition grants to students."

Lutheran World Federation and the Lutheran Student Association have been working along these same lines for a number of years in Hong Kong.

Knox Or Cornell To Be Knight NCAA Foe; Student Trail To Galesburg Suggested

Wartburg Knights will make their fourth consecutive NCAA tourney appearance March 4, at Galesburg, Ill.

According to a release from NCAA officials at Wheaton, Ill., the Knights will face the Midwest Conference champs, which will be either Knox or Cornell College, in the second game of the evening.

The first game will be between Prairie View A and M of Prairie View, Tex., and the winner of the North Central Conference. South Dakota and South Dakota State are battling for this spot.

All three of these schools have enrollments of better than 2,500 students.

PRESIDENTS OF HOUSING units gather to draw the names of Wartburg's championship basketball team members out of a hat. Each unit will honor its selected player by a two minute presentation at the special basketball convo Tuesday.

Classes Excused

Wartburg students planning to attend the NCAA tournament at Galesburg, Ill., have been granted excuses from Friday afternoon classes by the administration, according to Dean Oppermann.

All students planning to attend the tournament must pick up their excuses from the Dean of Students' office before 9 a.m. Friday morning.

Girls are required to have special written permission from their parents before being granted their excuses.

Route Suggested

Suggested route for the 215-mile trip to Galesburg is south on Route 218 to Route 30 and then east on Route 30 to Route 150. Turn right and follow Route 150 south all the way in to Galesburg.

Galesburg has an abundance of sleeping facilities. Triple-A directories list one hotel and four motels. Hotel Custer is equipped with a fine dining room and coffee shop, with rooms starting at $4.25.

Motels Listed

Other housing facilities listed are the Del Mar Motel, the Delores Motel, the Hawthorne Motel and the Knox Villa Motel. Also listed under eating establishments was the American Beauty Restaurant with dinners starting at $.65.

Senior Class Names Ottersberg Speaker

Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg, History Department, was selected, pending approval, as baccalaureate-communion speaker at the senior class meeting Wednesday.

Selected as permanent class president and alumni representative for the class of '60, was Wilbur Flachman, West Burlington.

A class project, to be announced later, was also voted by the seniors.

HOPKINS at the podium.

18 To Enact 'Dr. Faustus'

A cast of 18 members, probably the largest cast ever selected for a Wartburg Players production, will present "The Tragical History of Doctor Faustus" by Christopher Marlowe March 11 and 12.

According to Director Vernon Lestrud, the play will be presented in two acts. It will be staged in simplified setting, using one platform, suggesting various areas for different times. Special costumes have also been ordered for the play.

"Doctor Faustus" is divided into three parts: the temptation and fall of the hero; his life as wonder-working magician; and his death and damnation.

The author has centered all action around a single character, Dr. Faustus, who could be considered an Everyman, that is, every man who has renounced his faith for "the lusts of the flesh and the pride of life," said Lestrud.

Three To Chicago

Dr. C. H. Becker, president of Wartburg College; Dr. John Chellevold, dean of faculty; and Earnest Oppermann, dean of students, will attend a meeting of the Association on Higher Education in Chicago March 6-9.

Part Of A Winning Team?

Wartburg is about to do it again — celebrate success in taking its fourth Iowa Conference athletic championship in two years.

Accordingly, classes will be dismissed Tuesday morning and this time will be devoted to honoring the players responsible for accomplishing the feat.

After a leisurely 9 a.m. breakfast, students are free to join actively in the Knights Gymnasium in a jubilant commemoration of the triumph.

Sounds good, doesn't it?

At last a chance to sleep until noon!

Foreign as such an unspirited attitude may appear at first glance, there are a number of the Wartburg family who harbor this thought while planning for Tuesday morning.

Remember the victory celebration staged after the football championship last fall? Most of you won't — because you weren't there.

The responsibility of seizing recognition during the past basketball season lay on the shoulders of 12 players and their coach. These men accomplished this, not by chance, but by hours of practice, discipline and intensified studying.

Since the rest of the Student Body shares the distinction achieved, it makes good sense that it should share appreciation (if only for the break from class routine) by attending the festivities.

A unique system will be used Tuesday, whereby each housing unit will be given a certain amount of time to honor a specific player. Competition will be keen to see which group of students can heap the most esteem on their Knight in the shortest time.

Sounds good, doesn't it?

If you attend, you too may become part of a winning team.

C.S.

Surprising, isn't it? How so many want to go to a Christian liberal arts college — Christian in name and liberal in practice.

Ketha House wasn't satisfied with our local version of the Mardi Gras. A carload of them are down in New Orleans this weekend seeing what it is really like.

The popularity of the anthropologist who spoke to the Student Body at convo Thursday proves one thing about Wartburg students: they are more interested in where they have been than where they are going.

Another suggestion for this year's Student Body Project: Chop down last year's project.

Apparently the senior class members are still having trouble finding their way around the campus, as they voted to buy building markers as a class project.

Do Alpha males doubt their masculinity? They started cultivating beards before the carnival beard-growing contest was announced to the rest of the Student Body.

College life is one buggy thing after another. If the love bug doesn't get you, the flu bug will. If neither of them puts you out of circulation, the study bug will. The real plight is getting bit by all three at once.

Everyone Is Somebody

Our liberal arts colleges received a healthy and stimulating shot in the arm recently from an article published in the READER'S DIGEST.

D. Elton Trueblood in an article entitled "Why I Chose a Small College" states:

"In a student body of many thousands an individual is often lost in the anonymous mass. His role in the university's extracurricular activities is not that of a participant, but of a spectator. In the small college, on the other hand, almost every student is a participant in one activity or another. Here everyone at least has a chance to be somebody."

Enough said.

With no amount of oohing and aahing, we'll merely clasp our hands and say, Amen.

It's A Woman's World?

It's a woman's world, so they say.

Monday, Feb. 29, represents Leap Year in its most concrete form. Everybody knows what kind of doings go on during Leap Year. It's a woman's world.

The custom of women pulling a Sadie Hawkins during Leap Year has never been satisfactorily explained, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. However, the custom dates back at least to the 13th century.

In 1288 a Scottish law stated, "it is statut and ordaint . . . for ilk yeare knowne as lepe yeare, ilk mayden ladye of bothe highe and lowe estait shall hae liberte to bespeke ve man she likes . . . "

If the favored man refused to marry the "mayden ladye," he had to pay a fee in proportion to his property. The only way he could avoid either the marriage or the fee was to appear to be engaged to another woman.

A few years later France passed a similar law. In the 15th century the law spread to Genoa and Florence, Italy.

In the 20th century much ado has been made about the emancipation of women. Ever since man turned around to look at woman following behind him and discovered she was marching along beside him, each sex has tried to foist the blame for over-enthusiastic female freedom on the other.

However, perhaps the problem has been viewed in the wrong perspective. In the United States, noted for its emancipated women, no statute compels a man to marry the woman who pounces on him during Leap Year. Thus the United States of 1960 is either behind or ahead (depending purely on viewpoint) of the Scottish law of 1288.

Perhaps it isn't a woman's world after all.

Mid Knight March

By Bob Solete

While Student Body Project chairmen are all wrought up and pulling their hair out trying to think up ways to spend the students' money, ol' Bob has sat down and scrawled out a list of his own suggestions:

1. Purchase old cars from Walker's junk yard and place them in a row behind Centennial Hall for couples that don't own an auto.
2. How about an escalator for Old Main?
3. A Hart and Hardart Automat in the cafeteria to solve problems of congestion.
4. Then, we could buy a pool table for the ladies.
5. Pillows for convo would be nice.
6. Electric wheelchairs for the campus injured?
7. Stop light for the Trumpet's College Hill corner?
8. A master plaque, listing the location of all plaques on campus?
9. What about sponsoring a personal appearance of Marilyn Monroe on campus?
10. Snow shovels for students that use parking lot D?
11. Contour chair for Pastor Schick.
12. Ballroom extension for the Student Union.
13. Life-size portrait of Bob Solete?
14. More landscaping?

Five Merit Scholars Make Themselves Right At Home On Wartburg Campus

Radloff

Bergquist

Goetz

Grube

Briner

By Linda Mugridge

Their combined average grade point ranks in the magna cum laude graduation bracket.

Aside from that, Wartburg's five national merit scholars blend in with the school's other students. Juniors Dave Grube, Bruce Bergquist, Bill Goetz, K. D. Briner and sophomore Margretha Radloff study, play, hold jobs and participate in extracurricular activities.

With its five merit winners, Wartburg leads the Iowa Conference. Luther College at Decorah claims four merit students, Central College at Pella two and Dubuque University at Dubuque, one.

2,936 Merit Winners

A total of 2,936 merit scholars are currently attending some 389 schools throughout the nation. Of these, 2,357 are going to 289 privately supported schools.

"Why do I like Wartburg?" repeated Dave Grube, merit junior from Waverly. "That's like asking why a person loves his parents. For my money there's no better school."

Grube has lived most of his life just across the street from the campus. His mother manages the Wartburg cafeteria and Den.

A pre-medical student with a biology major, Grube is president of Beta Beta Beta, national honorary biology fraternity. He belongs to Choir.

He has also served as class senator two years and last spring was elected king of Wartburg's annual campus carnival.

Headed For Med. School

Grube will graduate from Wartburg in 1961. He then hopes to enter medical school at the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.

"I decided to graduate from Wartburg instead of transferring after my junior year because I wanted to broaden from the scientifically slanted pre-medical course to the humanities," commented Grube.

Grube, who has an over-all grade point ratio of 3.84, bagged a perfect 4.0, the second in his college career, last semester. The only other Wartburger achieving a 4.0 was another merit scholar, junior Bruce Bergquist.

Bergquist, who comes from Oklahoma City, Okla., is carrying a double major in philosophy and English. His ultimate goal is a doctorate in philosophy.

Studies More Now

"I spend more time studying than I used to," commented Bergquist. "I'm getting so that I really enjoy it. Now I study to get as much out of a course as I can — and I don't mean just grade-wise."

In addition to studying, Bergquist has been a class senator and has taken leading roles in three plays. He sings in the Choir and is currently taking violin lessons.

"Music is one of my favorite activities," added Bergquist. "It takes up quite a bit of time."

Another Choir member who doubles as a merit scholar is Bill Goetz, Tripoli. Bill went to Europe last summer when the Choir toured there.

Carrying 21 Hours

A transfer student from the University of Chicago, Goetz began his Wartburg career with a class load of 18 credit hours the first semester. Since then, he has added an hour every semester until he is currently carrying 21 hours.

Goetz is majoring in mathematics with an eye toward a doctorate and eventual college teaching. His primary extracurricular activity is debate. Thus far this season, Goetz and his partner have won 74 per cent of their debates.

"Yes, I'm glad I transferred to Wartburg," said Goetz. "After all, I met Joanne here."

"Joanne" is Joanne Mammen, his fiance. She is also a junior mathematics major. Wedding plans for the couple are indefinite.

Another Transfer Student

Junior K. D. Briner of Waverly is also a transfer merit student. He enrolled at Wartburg this semester after attending DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind.

Briner is a pre-law student majoring in political science.

At DePauw he belonged to the newspaper and yearbook staffs, band, orchestra and radio station. He also was an officer in his fraternity.

"Study?" exclaimed Briner. "I guess that depends on how soon I'm having a test!"

Margaretha Only Girl Winner

Wartburg's only girl merit scholar is sophomore Margretha Radloff of Bird City, Kan. Miss Radloff, a mathematics major, plans to teach high school after graduation.

Besides working in the Wartburg library, Miss Radloff belongs to the Band, Lutheran Student Association and Hans Sachs Verein. She went to Europe with the Choir last summer.

"The thing I liked most about the trip was being able to stay with the European families," she said. "What I like most now is getting letters from them."

Wartburg's five merit scholars are much like the school's other students. Their grade points are just higher.

Hoesman Here Mon. To Begin PMB Study

Dr. Henry Hoesman, director of Evangelism of the American Lutheran Church, will be on campus Monday, according to Chaplain Herman Diers.

While he is here, he will initiate the study program for the Parish Mission Builders in preparation for their summer work.

Chaplain Diers also added that there is a shortage of men on the PMB teams as of now. During Dr. Hoesman's visit Monday he will be interviewing any college men who would like to volunteer their summer for the PMB program.

Appointments for an interview can be made through Chaplain Diers' office.

Convo Spotlights Physics Tuesday

Dr. Edward Nelson from the Physics Department of the State University of Iowa will speak at Tuesday's convocation.

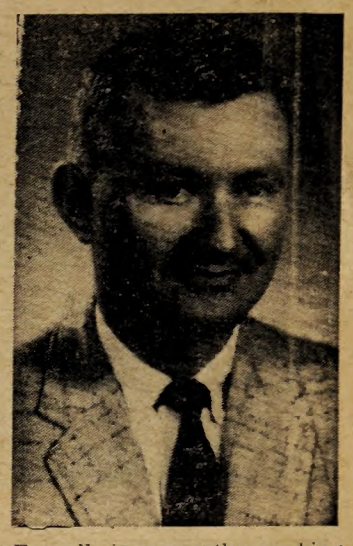
His topic, "Physics Today," will be followed by a panel moderated by Dr. Clifford Hanson, Philosophy Department. Other members of the panel will include Dr. Edwin Sandberg, English Department; William Azbell, Physics Department; and several students.

Since the Lenten season begins next week, there will be a convocation of worship Thursday. Dr. Gerhard Krodel, professor of New Testament at Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, will be the featured speaker.

Music Staff Gets Farwell

Walter M. Farwell, instructor of voice from Iowa City, will join the Wartburg faculty next fall as a member of the Music Department.

Farwell received his BME degree in 1950 from the Kansas City Conservatory, Kansas City, Mo. He received his M.A. degree in 1953 from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City.



Farwell is presently working toward his doctorate at SUI.

The Musicman served in the U. S. Army from 1950-52 and taught vocal music from 1953-59 at the Fayette High School, Fayette. He has served as a baritone soloist in a number of chorus presentations.

Farwell will replace C. Robert Larson, who will be on a leave of absence for graduate study for one year.

Abramson To Be Soloist At 2nd Symphony Concert

By Elaine Melchert

Miss Jean Abramson of the Wartburg Music Department will be the featured piano soloist at the second concert of the Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra, scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Knights Gymnasium.

Mozart's "Piano Concert, K.537," often called "The Coronation Concerto," is the selection Miss Abramson will play. The orchestra will play Beethoven's "Symphony No. 1" as well as lighter numbers.

Lee Directs

The symphony, directed by Robert E. Lee, is composed of Wartburg student and faculty members plus interested people from Waverly and the surrounding area. Students included in the group are Jane Becker, junior; Verna Hass, freshman; and Keo Miller, senior, all on the violin, with Vivian Johnson and Muriel Stuepfert, freshmen, playing flute.

Bass clarinet is played by Marjorie Johnson, freshman, while Mary Markle, sophomore, plays the oboe. Linda Blobaum, freshman, joins in on the English horn as Bob Pannkuk, junior, and John Beaty, freshman, play the French horn. The trumpet is handled by Jim Voss, freshman. Arlyn Fuerst, freshman, plays the trombone, and Roger Klepzig, freshman, the tuba.

More Wartburgers

Percussion members are Dave Grube, junior, and Marilyn Schlake, freshman. Faculty members include Miss Abramson playing the piano; Miss Faith Bueltmann, English Department, the flute; Miss Erna Moehl, English Department, and Miss Myrna Lewis, Music Department, the violin.

Students will be admitted to the concert by activity ticket.

Nelson To Speak Here Mon., Tues.

Dr. Edward P. Nelson, visiting lecturer from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, will be on campus Monday and Tuesday.

Dr. Nelson appears under the auspices of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics. He will appear in lectures and informal meetings in addition to assisting various members of the faculty with curriculum projects.

Science Club, at a meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. March 1, will hear Nelson speak on the topic "Gamma Radiation From Artificially Produced Radioactive Nuclei."

Excitement Runs High As 3 Try Out In Iowa City For Robert Shaw Chorale

By Grace Jahn

"Even after all the tension was over, we were still excited."

Joyce Mueller, senior from Waverly, smiled as she recalled her recent experience in auditioning for the Robert Shaw Chorale.

Grayce Pumfrey, senior from Rochelle, Ill.; Meredith Stuhmer, senior from Alma, Neb.; and Joyce worked up their courage and talked to Shaw after his Feb. 15 presentation of Bach's "Mass in B Minor" here.

He told them that auditions on the road were very irregular and that most of the auditioning was done in New York. However, he referred the girls to his contralto soloist-secretary, Miss Florence Kopleff, for a possible appointment.

Miss Kopleff invited the girls to come to Iowa City two days later, when there would be time for an audition.

Two days later at 1 p.m. the trio was filling out application blanks in a dining room at the Jefferson Hotel in Iowa City.

"We sang for Miss Kopleff and the business manager. . . individually, and we did something from opera or an oratorio," explained Joyce. "We didn't have to do any sight-reading at all."

Results were favorable, say the girls.

151 Applicants Strive For 95 Scholarships

Approximately 151 scholarship applications have been turned in, according to Dean of Women Mrs. Florence Hertlein. Scholarship awards will be given at an Awards Day convocation later in the year.

Fifty-five class scholarships are to be divided among the sophomore, junior and senior classes. In addition, 40 funded scholarships will be presented to juniors and seniors. Sixty-five future sophomores, 42 juniors and 44 seniors have applied for the scholarships.

Second Vote On SB Project Tuesday

Student Body Project Committee has completed some of the preliminary planning for the project, according to John Tuecke, general chairman. Another preliminary vote will be taken Tuesday in convo.

"The many suggestions that were made on the first ballot warrant the considerations of the Student Body," stated Tuecke.

"There were things suggested that most people had not thought of," added Tuecke, "but for the benefit of the persons who wanted the elephant, we are afraid that our climate is not suitable for such a project."

Some of the suggestions included lights for the tennis courts, a bus to be used by the school on some of the many trips made by the students, a projector for the campus movies in years to come and refrigerated water fountains to be placed in the dorms.

Dave Jensen, project chairman, stated that there will be one more primary vote taken before the final decision of the combination of some smaller items on the final ballot.

On the first ballot the voting showed in favor of combining the TV set with the equipment for social use in the Little Theater.

Dates for the pledge drive will be March 13-19. Every member of the Student Body will be contacted at this time for a contribution.

Goal this year has been set at two thousand dollars. This means that the average contribution per person will be about two dollars.

Tuecke asks those students not contacted during the drive to see either him or Jensen.

10 Named Wartburg's Best-Dressed; One Will Be Winner Tuesday

HERE THEY ARE, in line for inspection — Wartburg's 10 Best-dressed Girls!

Candidates will draw for the outfit which they will model for the judges and will provide a description of the apparel chosen and why they chose to wear it. The judges will also question the coeds in other fashion areas.

Linda Mugridge, Trumpet managing editor, will act as mistress of ceremonies.

COLORS, FABRICS AND STYLES are being discussed by Dot, Karen and Rennie as they try to coordinate a wardrobe, keeping occasions and local customs in mind.

THE WINNING WARTBURG COED will be entered in the nationwide quest for America's 10 Best-dressed College Girls, sponsored by Glamour Magazine.

She will be photographed in three fashion outfits—an on-campus outfit, a daytime off-campus outfit and a party dress. These photographs, together with an explanation of her personality, outside interests and hobbies and why she was chosen will be mailed to Glamour Magazine.

If she is selected as one of the 10 Best-dressed in America, she will spend two weeks in New York City in June as the guest of Glamour. During that time she will do modeling, television and radio appearances and will help in the production of Glamour's August college issue.

DIANE ASKS MARTI about lipstick shades while both check their grooming in the mirror. A Best-dressed Girl is not just neat, she's impeccable and uses just enough make-up to look natural.

"LIFT YOUR CHIN just a bit more," says Donna, as Betty balances a book on Carol's head. The girls are practicing posture and are getting hints from Glamour Magazine, which is sponsoring the contest in connection with the Trumpet. ←

Donkeys Buck Elephants As Democrats On Campus Set Organizational Meet

Donkeys roaming the Wartburg campus? Not exactly, but there will be friends of these four-legged creatures when the Wartburg Young Democrats hold their organizational meeting Thursday, March 3.

Leading the group in its planning stages is Pearce Konold, sophomore from Ocheyedan. Senior Catherine Beckmann, Burr, Neb.; sophomore Dallas Johnson, Olivia, Minn.; and sophomore Horst Hehr, Alden, Minn., form the current organizational committee, according to Konold.

Konold, who lives next door to the Young Republican president, Dick Klabunde, states he is sure that the Democrats will give campus Republicans a run during the coming political elections. He also invites nonpartisan students as well as Democrats to attend the group meeting.

One Month Remaining For Drama Writers

Only one month remains in the one-act play writing contest, according to Vernon Lestrud of the Speech Department. The deadline is March 31.

Any Iowa college student is eligible to submit a play.

The first prize in this contest is $35 and production. The second prize is $20 and production. The third prize is $10 and possible production.

Judges of the contest are Mrs. Margaret Garland, Miss Erna Moehl, both of the English Department, and Lestrud.

Winners will be announced April 15 and the winning entries produced May 19, 20 and 21.

Entry blanks are available in Lestrud's office.

Basin Street Beat

TRANSPORTED TO THE Mardi Gras for the evening, students circle the dance floor last night. Approximately one hundred fifty attended the semi-formal affair sponsored by the Business Students Association.

Lois Max Rates Washington Wk.

Lois Max, Wartburg junior, was named one of 20 participants in the "Week in Washington" political internship program this year, according to an announcement from the Advisory Board of the Iowa Citizenship Clearing House.

Miss Max

Miss Max will spend a week in Washington as a guest of either Congressman and Mrs. Fred Schwengel or Congressman and Mrs. Leonard Wolf.

While in Washington, the students will tour the city, spend some time in the Representative's offices, visit Congressional committees, sit in Congressional sessions and visit the national headquarters of each party.

Expenses for the trip will be paid by the Clearing House and the party of Miss Max's choice. She will be informed of the dates for her trip later.

Miss Max is the third Wartburg student to participate in the program. Previously Roger Lageschulte, Waverly, and Kay Fritschel, Charles City, have traveled to the national capital.

Large 'A' In Knights GymnAsium Stands For . . . Activities

"Were you at the big dance in the gym last night?"

"You bet. Say, that building really is in use a lot, isn't it?"

"What does the big A stand for in Gymnasium?"

"It stands for Activities, didn't you know?"

In Italy all roads may lead to Rome, but at Wartburg all sidewalks lead to Knights Gym. Whether it be convo, a basketball game or an Artist Series or one of a dozen other activities, the scene is Knights Gym.

The importance of such a building on a college campus is indeed an outstanding one. Its purpose is to handle the variety of activities so important to college life—and it has been doing it admirably for years.

Built in 1949 at a cost of nearly $400,000, Knights Gymnasium has a seating capacity of 2,500 for basketball, and about 3,500 for events such as Artist Series.

In Constant Use

The gym floor is occupied over twelve hours a day with PE classes, convo and basketball games and practices. During this time the stage, classroom and wrestling room are being used for classes.

In the evening students can be seen walking toward the gym to watch a varsity basketball game, men's IM basketball, WAA, a Waverly High School game, or some other social activity—you name it — will be in progress.

Saturdays find a continued flow of students to the gym as they watch a wrestling meet or prepare for an activity to be held that night. Yes, even the gent that feels he is growing old can be found in the mat room doing exercises.

The tireless gym doesn't bother to rest on Sunday, as the students gather there to hold worship services.

The amount of activity that takes place in the gym can be seen by the fact that three days couldn't be sacrificed to reseal the floor this fall, according to Athletic Director Ax Bundgaard.

Charlie's The Man

The job of taking care of the building belongs to Charlie Pichelmeyer, assisted by Walt Raney. Their task is not an easy one because it is oftentimes difficult to convert the gym from one activity to another in the time allotted.

With the completion of the Chapel Auditorium, some of the load will be relieved from the gym. Next year convocation, Campus Church and most of the music presentations will be given in the new Auditorium. However, the gym will remain the scene of many events, especially those for which a large crowd is expected.

At the present time, because of the mass of activities, the facilities of the gym are barely adequate to take care of its many needs. A lot of planning is necessary to fit the large number of PE classes into the time set aside for them. Another difficulty is the growing shortage of locker room space.

Bundgaard is looking forward to the day when additional space can be provided to handle the anticipated increase in enrollment, which will also increase the number of students using the gym. Plans for such a construction are currently included in the long-range building plan.

Dr. Bundgaard hopes that someday indoor facilities will be added through construction of a fieldhouse, which would house indoor track, football and baseball practice areas.

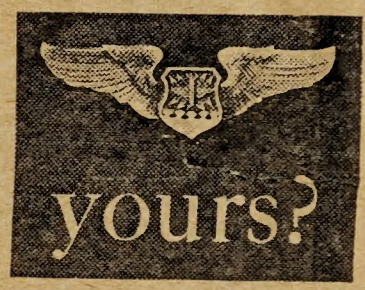
Relieve Congestion

The building would also provide space for indoor tennis, a golf driving range and indoor archery. The congested PE classes would also be relieved because two or more classes could be held at the same time.

Even though this building may be far in the future, the flow of students both entering and leaving Knights Gymnasium will still be one of the amazing things noticed by visitors to the Wartburg campus.

"Where am I going this afternoon?"

"Why, I'm going to the gym to watch IM basketball."



These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

Iowa Loop Mat Meet Here Next Week

First IC Tourney Since '53 Contest

First Iowa Conference wrestling meet here since 1953 will be held in the Knights Gymnasium one week from today, Saturday, March 5.

A conference wrestling meet is relatively new on the Iowa Conference sports scene. The first one was initiated in 1948. Its success stimulated interest in the sport, and the meet continued to be an annual affair until 1954, when it was discontinued.

Knights Former Powerhouse

In those days Wartburg was the powerhouse of the conference when its grapplers won the title four years in a row beginning in '48. They placed second in '53.

Last year a recommendation for a conference meet was presented at the conference meeting, but was rejected when few teams expressed interest. If a successful meet is to be held, at least four teams must participate, thus stimulating interest as well as eliminating the advantage of a bye, according to Knight Coach Norm Johanson.

Interest High

This year Wartburg recommended the meet, interest was expressed by a number of teams, and the conference voted in the affirmative to hold the contest.

Teams participating in this year's meet are Buena Vista, Dubuque, Luther, Parsons, Simpson, UIU and Wartburg. Dubuque and Upper Iowa appear to be the strongest teams, but Wartburg, with possible line-up changes in store, will also be a serious threat.

Look For Thrills

Numerous thrills and excitement will be in store for the avid wrestling fan on this day because of the many outstanding wrestlers who will be competing. Ron Fretheim of Luther heads the list. Ron has compiled an individual record of 23-1-1 during the last couple of years.

Because of the large number of grapplers, two mats will be in use throughout the meet.

The quarter-finals will commence at 1 p. m. and will be followed by the semifinals. The finals will be held at 7:30 p.m. With this type of eliminaiton system, a man will have to wrestle three times in order to win the championship in his division.

Hold 60 Matches

Approximately 50 to 60 matches will be held throughout the day with 40 to 48 of these being conducted in the afternoon.

Johansen stated that at present the future of the meet is rather unpredictable and will depend largely on how many teams express interest in the event each year as well as the willingness of the other schools to host the event.

He added that capable administration will be needed if the meet is to be successful and that volunteers to help conduct the tournament are needed.

Freshmen Finish Schedule Monday

Wartburg freshman cagers finish a 16-game slate Monday night, opposing Upper Iowa's frosh, a team they beat 80-57 before.

The Squires will be aiming at their fourth win of the year, having lost 12.

Luther whipped the Squires 86-70 Tuesday, after leading throughout the game.

Dave Brunscheen scored 16 and Marlyn Eitmann garnered 14 to pace Coach Wendy Liemohn's frosh cagers.

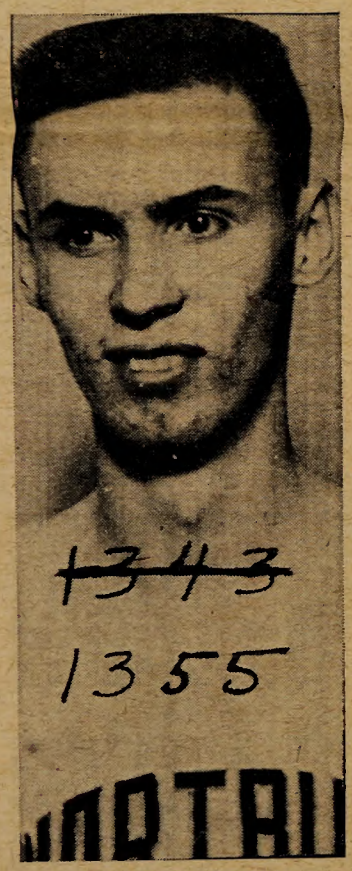
Tuecke Bags School Mark

Despite Wartburg's heartbreaking loss to Luther this week, the game brought one happy note, the establishment of a new school scoring record by senior center, John Tuecke.

John tallied 15 points against the Norse, bringing his career total to 1,355 during his stay at Wartburg. Tuecke's total broke the old mark of 1,343 set by John Adix, a Knight from 1954-58.

Tuecke, who hails from Garnavillo, has been a starter at the center position during all four of his years at college, although a knee injury kept him idle half of his freshman year.

Tuecke, also scholastically high ranking, is majoring in mathematics at Wartburg.



FUGITIVE FROM opponents' defensive strategy is Knight center John Tuecke, who crossed out John Adix's school scoring mark of 1,343 points by tallying 15 at Luther and bringing his own total to 1,355. Tuecke has at least three more games to pad his four-year production.

IM Stars To Play Luther

Wartburg's IM basketball all-star team will play Luther's IM all-stars March 12, according to Larry Niemann, intramurals chairman.

Niemann, chief of the Intramurals Committee, said that the committee would choose the all-star team soon. The annual game will be played at Luther.

Niemann

IM basketball during the week was to be limited to this afternoon with eight games. The original schedule called for games March 7 and 10, but Niemann said these games would be moved up to today.

Games were to be played between 1 and 5 p.m., Niemann said, with teams originally scheduled for 7:15 March 7 to play at 1 p.m., teams scheduled for 8:15 March 7 to battle at 2 p.m., teams slated for 7:15 March 10 to meet at 3 p.m., and teams listed for 8:15 March 10 to compete at 4 p.m.

All games scheduled for the past two weeks were postponed because of the high school basketball tournament and other conflicting events. There were no changes in standings from last week.

Positions Juggled In IM Keg Loop

Intramural bowling league standings tightened up last Saturday when the league leaders dropped two games.

Don Ringgenberg's team, on top with 9 points, dropped two games to Bill Wachholz's keglers and barely held on to the lead by half a point. A point is credited for each game won.

The other matches resulted in sweeps. Roger Hein's team jumped over Al Snook's squad by sweeping three games. Jerry Ford's pinsters moved up a few notches by taking three games from Stan Ahrendt's team. Dave Braunschweig's outfit took three straight from the cellar dwellers, Bruce Buslaff's squad.

Hassman Means Business On The Mat

By Norm Litzner

The name of Alan Hassman has become associated with victory on the Wartburg wrestling mats.

Hassman, a sophomore from New Hampton, has been a regular on the Wartburg wrestling team since his first college meet.

"I come from a long line of grapplers," stated Hassman. "Several of my cousins and an uncle have won honors in state high school competition."

Fledgling In Tights

As a result of his family's interest in the sport, Al began wrestling at an early age and competed in three years of grade school competition.

Continuing his wrestling career in the New Hampton High School, Al collected three varsity letters in the heavyweight class. He also received state honors in this class as a sophomore.

While wrestling was the top sport for Al during high school days, he also found time to win two letters in football at the end position.

When it came time for college, he chose to continue his wrestling career at Wartburg.

Good Record Here

Although he has not yet completed his second season at Wartburg, he has compiled a respectable record of 16 wins, 3 losses and 2 draws in the 177-pound division.

When asked his opinion on Wartburg's chances in the Iowa Conference wrestling tournament next Saturday, Hassman stated, "We've been beaten by Dubuque and Upper Iowa, but I think with good drawings we could take first, anyway no lower than second."

An active member of W-Club, Al is working on a liberal arts business major, with a future vocational preference of farming.

MAT COACH Norm Johansen offers a little encouragement to Al, who will be struggling for a championship in the Iowa Conference meet here next Saturday.

Upper Iowa's Loss Gives Knights 2nd Straight Title

Cage Race Is Over As B.V. Drops Peacocks

Wartburg Knights gained sole ownership of the Iowa Conference championship last night when Buena Vista downed Upper Iowa 93-80.

Upper Iowa Peacocks needed a victory over both Buena Vista and Wartburg to manage a tie. Wartburg now has a 12-3 record compared to a 10-5 for Upper Iowa, Luther and Dubuque, who are all tied for second place.

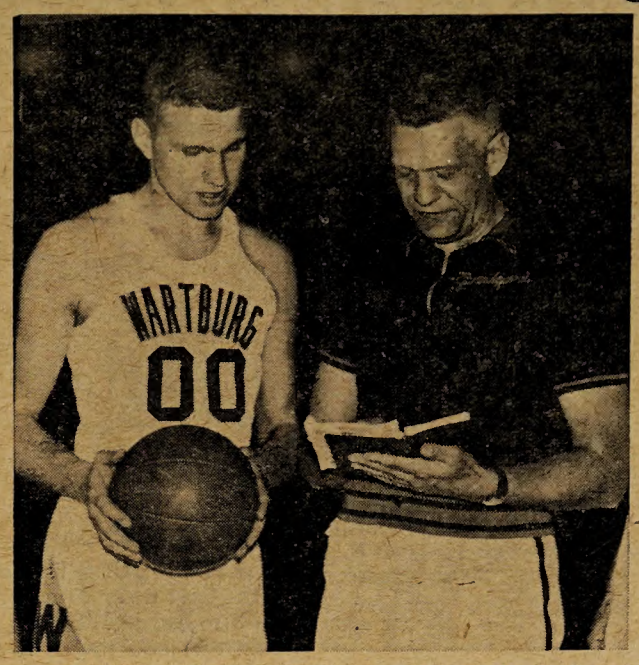
Last night's Buena Vista victory relieved much of the pressure that would have existed on Monday when Wartburg travels to Fayette to oppose the Peacocks. The Knights face Upper Iowa in the final game of the season before entering the NCAA tourney.

Upper Iowa, who had hopes of keeping the Knights from getting their second consecutive outright championship, found the road trips a little too rough this week. They were massacred at Dubuque Tuesday night 103-83.

Wartburg found the road rather tough, also, Tuesday night when they traveled to Decorah only to have the Norsemen pin a 74-73 defeat on them.

The Knights are currently preparing for the NCAA Tournament to be held in Galesburg, Ill. Wartburg is scheduled to play the Midwest Conference winner in the second game of the tournament.

The Midwest Conference Championship will be decided tonight when Knox College and Cornell fight it out for the number one spot. Knox, who needed only one win of their last four games to cinch the championship, find themselves up against the wall tonight after losing three in a row this past week.



SENIOR NORM REMMERS and Coach Ax Bundgaard plot strategy for the game at Upper Iowa Monday night. Last night the Knights emerged as sole champions of the Iowa Conference when Upper Iowa fell before Buena Vista.

Wrestlers Pinned By UIU; Face St. Cloud There Today

Wartburg matmen dropped a 20-10 wrestling decision to Upper Iowa University Wednesday evening.

Upper Iowa managed the only two falls of the evening when Gary Rutledge pinned Lloyd Casey in 3 minutes in the 123-pound class and Bob Dirks pinned LeRoy Scharnhorst in 5 mins. 9 secs. of the heavyweight division.

In other action John Sternberg decisioned Bob Cline 3-0 in the 130 class, and John Youngblut beat Bill Smith 2-0 in the 137 division.

Jim Mueller and Roger Mongan wrestled to a 1-1 tie in the 147-pound class while the Knights' Don Smith dropped the 157-pound class to Terry DeBerg.

Roger Hildebrandt managed an 8-7 decision over Al Miller in the 167 division before Al Hassman and Neil Evans fought it out to a 4-4 draw in the 177-pound class.

This afternoon the Knights are at St. Cloud, Minn., where they will tangle with St. Cloud State in the final dual meet of the year. Wartburg now has a 4-5-1 record.

The Knights will round out their wrestling season next Saturday when they host the Iowa Conference wrestling meet in the Knights Gym.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! All Young Republicans convene in Clinton Hall Lounge Thursday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m.

A candidate for tne United States Senatorial race will be the speaker for the evening. Waverly lawyer Oliver Reeve will present the platform he will use in his campaign for a seat in the U.S. Senate.

Strangely enough, campus Young Republicans are probably the only group in politics urging the Democrats to form a club on the Wartburg campus. Apparently, a politician is not happy unless he is arguing with a rival politician!

Monday, March 7, at 7 p.m. Phebes will be meeting in the faculty lounge. The speaker will be H. A. Flessener from the Deaconess Hospital, Milwaukee, Wis.

He will also be available for consultation Monday afternoon. All people interested in a career as a laboratory technician, nurse or deaconess may gain valuable information concerning these professions. Be sure to attend!

★ ★ ★ ★

People who like to talk and argue (intelligently) will be interested in this item: If you are interested in debate and would like to become a part of the club next year, you should notify Mr. Smith or Dean Engbrecht now. Pronto!

The debate team will journey to St. Thomas College in Minneapolis March 3 to begin a three-day tournament. Good luck, debaters.

"To have or not to have social groups — that is the question. A committee of Senate members has been organized to contact students to find out their views concerning social groups or societies.

The canvassing began last week and will continue throughout this week.

All students should be seriously thinking about the following questions:

1. Should we have social groups or societies for social purposes?
2. Should the dorms be broken into social groups or should social groups be independent organizations?
3. Would the groups, if organized, be active or soon fade into apathy?
4. Can our present organizations fulfill social life obligations?

★ ★ ★ ★

Consider the questions carefully and be prepared to give your opinions whether for or against social groups. This issue concerns every student at Wartburg!

Choir Will Test Traveling Exams During Fall Tour

Tests on tour, a Wartburg first, will be tried next fall. Sixty Choir members will take their mid-semester exams while on the road.

Liemohn

According to Earnest F. Oppermann, dean of students, the faculty has decided to try this on a temporary basis.

"It is an experiment, and whether or not we use this policy in other years presenting similar conflicts, depends on the results," stated Oppermann.

Instructors will send written tests with Choir director, Dr. Edwin Liemohn, who will administer them. Oppermann said that other details concerning the administering of the exams have not yet been worked out.

Faculty action became necessary because of conflicts in the 1960-61 school calendar which involved the Choir and the mid-semester exam schedule.

Since school will begin Sept. 12, mid-semester exams fall during the week of Nov. 7. It is impossible for the Choir to go on tour after mid-semester exams because of the Thanksgiving holidays. Oppermann pointed out that Homecoming Oct. 22 rules out any chance of going before exam week.

H.S. Choir Here

The Jefferson Choir of Jefferson High School, Cedar Rapids, appeared here yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the Choral Rehearsal Room of the Fine Arts Center.

WARTBURG'S MICHELANGELOS, seniors Delores Garrett and Keo Miller, put the finishing touches on a mural in the college Den. The newest red-eyed Den dwellers began to take form on the wall last week.

Debate Teams Take Four Out Of Ten Saturday

Two Wartburg debate teams decisioned four of ten opponents at Wisconsin State College, Eau Claire, Saturday.

The one team, consisting of sophomore Al Putz and senior Dean Engbrecht, defeated Wisconsin State College, La Crosse, and lost to the University of Minnesota, the University of Wisconsin, the University of Kansas City and St. John's University of Minnesota.

Juniors Bill Goetz and Dallas Johnson lost to Northern Michigan College of Education and to St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn. They defeated Itasca College, Northern State Teachers College, Aberdeen, S. D., and Macalester College.
